New Look At The Primary Library

There will be a new look in the library awaiting the students at the Appomattox Primary School this year. Very colorful bulletin boards, well known cartoon characters, Peanuts, Mickey Mouse and others will be stressing reading, quiet time for listening and will be conveying other ideas to children using the library facilities.

Mrs. Judy Blanton, pictured above has joined the teaching staff at the Appomattox Primary school and will be librarian along with Mrs. Henry Beard who will be returning again this fall. Mrs. Blanton says she thinks a library should be bright, colorful, cheerful and interesting, an atmosphere all the children will enjoy.

A native of Concord, North Carolina, Mrs. Blanton graduated from Immaculata Junior College in Washington, D. C.; and Appalachian State Teachers College in Boone, North Carolina, where she received a BS degree in Elementary Education. She received her Library of Science degree from Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, Tennessee.

A fourth grade teacher for six years, two of which she spent teaching at Concord, Virginia, Mrs. Blanton comes to Appomattox Primary School from T. C. Miller Elementary School in Lynchburg where she was librarian for one year.

"I am looking forward to working in the Appomattox Primary School this year", says Mrs. Blanton, "and getting to know the people better."

She is married to George Blanton, assistant football coach and teacher at appomattox County High School.

FEE PARKING BEGINS TUESDAY AT LYNCHBURG GENERAL HOSPITAL

A fee parking system will begin operating at the Lynchburg General-Marshall Lodge Hospital Tuesday at 8 a.m.

The decision to expand the visitor parking facility to an additional 120 spaces was made as a direct result of requests by patients and visitors. The paid parking concept was decided upon to keep initial construction costs and maintenance expenses from being passed on to the patients.

Persons who are admitted as patients as well as those who must come periodically for out-patient services will not be charged for parking. They should contact the admissions office before leaving the building.

A coin changer is located in the foyer at the main entrance of the hospital. Should this equipment not be functioning properly the correct change may be obtained at the admissions office. The cost per car will be 25 cents regardless of the length of time involved and will be payable upon leaving the lot.

Net Earnings Up In County

New York, Aug. 21 - Appomattox County's economy moved into higher gear during the past year, according to a copyrighted report on business activity, just released by Sales Management.

The stronger showing was due, in the main, to the fact that local consumers had more money available to them than in the previous year, thanks to rising incomes, and less reluctance about spending it.

They cut down somewhat on their rate of saving and returned to the market place to purchase some of the big-ticket items that they had been putting off buying.

The extent of this spending and its effect on retail business in the are are brought out in the report, which is entitled "Survey of Buying Power."It presents comparable data on income and spending for localities in all parts of the nation.

It shows that net earnings in Appomattox County were relatively high in the year. Local residents had a disposable income after paying their personal taxes, of $21,925,000, as against the prior year's $19,836,000.

What this represented, for each individual family, was found by dividing the dollar amount by the number of households. The average was $7,908, a gain over the 1970 average of $6,840.

With more money at their command, despite inflation, and with a more optimistic feeling about the economy, local residents regained some of their confidence and began to spend more freely.

As a result, the year was a good one for most local merchants. They walked up a sales volume of $9,836,000, beating
